

Deer Valley Defeats Pirates in NCS Title Game

Thursday, 07 March 2013 15:43

By Jim Knowles

San Leandro Times

Deer Valley guard Kendall Smith scored 27 points to lead the Wolverines to a 73-65 win over San Leandro on Friday night to take the North Coast Section Division I title.

Deer Valley Defeats Pirates in NCS Title Game

Thursday, 07 March 2013 15:43

The Pirates closed the gap to 7 points in the fourth period with guard Dejon Budreaux leading the charge in front of a big crowd for the NCS championship game played at St. Mary's College in Moraga.

The loss was a setback, but San Leandro still remained in the hunt in the Nor-Cal playoffs, hosting Bethel High of Vallejo on Wednesday (last night). The result of that game was too late for this week's newspaper deadline.

Deer Valley got a bye in the first round of the Nor-Cal playoffs by winning the NCS title on Friday night against San Leandro. The Wolverines got the ball to their big center, Marcus Lee, in the paint. The 6-foot-10 Lee knocked down 22 points.

But Deer Valley guard Kendall Smith was the real terror on the court, leading the game in scoring with 27 points.

Deer Valley Defeats Pirates in NCS Title Game

Thursday, 07 March 2013 15:43

Call the state capital office at 303-839-3300 for more information on the state capital building and its history. The capital building is located in Denver, Colorado, and is a landmark of the city. It was built in 1895 and is one of the oldest buildings in the state. The building is a prime example of the Beaux-Arts architectural style. It features a grand facade with a central tower and a series of arches. The interior is equally impressive, with a large rotunda and a series of ornate rooms. The capital building is a symbol of the state's history and its commitment to democracy. It is a place where the people's representatives meet to discuss and decide on the laws of the state. The building is a source of pride for the people of Colorado and a landmark of the city of Denver. It is a place where the past meets the present and where the future is being shaped. The capital building is a testament to the state's rich history and its commitment to the principles of democracy. It is a place where the people's voices are heard and where the state's future is being decided. The capital building is a landmark of the city of Denver and a symbol of the state's history and its commitment to democracy. It is a place where the people's representatives meet to discuss and decide on the laws of the state. The building is a source of pride for the people of Colorado and a landmark of the city of Denver. It is a place where the past meets the present and where the future is being shaped. The capital building is a testament to the state's rich history and its commitment to the principles of democracy. It is a place where the people's voices are heard and where the state's future is being decided.