Get ready for a party – the Sausage and Suds Music Festival is this Sunday downtown.

Form 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., head over to Parrott Street between east 14th Street and Washington Avenue for the celebration.

The Sausage and Suds Festival will feature a great selection of beers, hot sausages, and other treats, as well as live music and a kid's play zone.

The festival is San Leandro's biggest party and over 8,000 people came last year.

On the live stage, the entertainment kicks off with a free Zumba dance lesson at 10 a.m., then folk rock band The Coburns will take the stage at 11:30 a.m.,

At 1:15 p.m. R&B act Tasche will play, at 3 p.m. The Spazmatics will pump up the crowd with some '80s tunes, and at 4:45 p.m. check out salsa band Avance.
